

Creative Communications Intern

The European Forum of Farm Animal Breeders (EFFAB) has an exciting Internship position for a proactive and enthusiastic communicator to strengthen our team.

EFFAB has a secretariat of 6 people engaged in promoting the activities of the European Animal Breeders and European research projects related to Animal Breeding and Reproduction and livestock farming. We are now looking for a Creative Communications Intern to support the team in activities related to communication strategy and design.

Job description and capabilities

Your job will be to support the communication activities of EFFAB and FABRE-TP, related to the European policy and scientific agenda in Brussels. EFFAB also participates in European research projects by disseminating results and transferring knowledge. In this internship period, you will support both types of activities and work in close collaboration with the rest of the team members.

We are looking for:

Profile & Qualifications

- University degree in Communications, Graphic Design or IT related studies
- Some experience in website development, photo editing, graphic design and video editing
- Interest in social media monitoring, analysis and creating content
- Some experience in either InDesign, Canva or other design programmes and video edit programmes like Final Cut, iMovie or Wondershare Filmora is an important asset
- Fluent English is required, another EU language is an asset but not required
- Good and creative writing skills
- Natural interest in European Politics, Sustainability and Agriculture
- Motivated, well organised team player, able to deliver on time, proactive and can take responsibility for own work
- Flexible and can adapt to changing priorities as required

Main Responsibilities

- Produce content and design visuals for the Horizon 2020 projects we are involved in (currently eight projects) will be your main tasks
- Co-write articles, factsheets and relevant information for the public
- Assist in growing our social media channels for both EFFAB, FABRE-TP and the Horizon projects
- Assist in setting up meetings, webinars and political events
- Analyse data, traffic, social media engagement and present ideas for improvement on a regular basis

- Assist in building the new EFFAB and FABRE TP website

We hope you would like to join us for a fun and educational position that will give you a lot of new skills and experiences to kick start your career. The internship is paid and you will be working in close collaboration with our Communications Officer. The position allows remote working, but it also requires regular meeting in our office in the heart of Brussels. The working hours will be defined depending on the profile and the availability of the applicant.

How to apply

Send us your CV, a short motivation letter explaining why you would like to join us as our new Creative Communications Intern and a sample of either graphic and/or written material. The internship period is 6-months full time but flexible in terms of studies and exam periods. You need to have the right to work in the EU to apply for this internship.

All applications should be submitted via e-mail to: effab@effab.info before the 29th of October 2021 at 12.00. We will invite qualified candidates for an interview on going basis. We are flexible with the starting date but would like to aim for the 1st of December or earlier.

Don't hesitate to contact us if you have any questions. We hope to receive your application!
